Forecast For Southwest England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Saturday 10 Jul 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Showers and drizzle for some overnight, but dry for most.

This Evening and Tonight:
Showers in the west of the region are likely to continue, progressing eastwards overnight. Low cloud approaching from the west, which could bring light patchy rain or drizzle to higher ground. Dry for most, with some clear spells. Minimum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Sunday:
A dry start for most, and bright in the east. Through the morning, rain pushes approaches from the west, affecting the whole region by late afternoon, with heavier outbreaks later. Maximum temperature 19 deg C (66 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Rain for most on Monday, falling heaviest across southern areas, followed by showers later. Showers, some heavy, in eastern areas on Tuesday. Dry and bright throughout on Wednesday.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.